

The Free Music Theory Worksheet featured on the second page of this PDF document is one designed to be given to students near the beginning of a basic music theory course. It features only the (natural) notes to be found on the white keys of the piano.

Subsequent worksheets are designed to build upon the knowledge and experience gained from this one with the introduction of notes to be found on the Black Keys and the introduction of musical notation

Above are some more of our Music Theory Worksheets. The one on the left introduces the choice of possible letter names that can be assigned to notes found on the black keys and the one on the right requires students to notate the note that they have identified.
